WORK ON OIL TANKS
Foundations for the First Ready.

Work upon the great iron tanks which will serve as the storage reservoirs for the fuel oil which it is expected will begin to arrive here within the next four or five months, is now so well along that the leveling of the sites for them has been undertaken. Men are now employed in clearing off the foundation which will be used for the first of the pair of great tanks which are to be put up by the Pacific company.

As at present planned there will be five tanks, with an aggregate capacity of close to 135,000 barrels of oil. Three of these will be the property of the Union Oil Company, which will supply the plantations further down the railroad line, and the other will belong to the Pacific Company, that in which Captain Matson and John A. Buck are so heavily interested. The Union Company's tanks will be of 37,000 barrels capacity each, while those of the Pacific will be only 35,000 barrels. The iron for the first one of the Union Company's reservoirs is now here, having been received on the last ship, and information is at hand that the iron for the others is on the way, in the cargo of the next Hawaiian-American ship to touch at this port.

The tanks of the Pacific Company are being built here, by the Honolulu Iron Works, and will be completed as soon as possible. The floor for the first tank will be ready for putting together within the next month, and once construction is begun, there will be no delay in getting the tankage up and ready for the connections. The work of actual construction is to be done by the oil companies themselves, as the iron company has contracts for the construction alone. This will prove not a matter of great moment, as there is plenty of skilled labor ready to take up the task.

The tanks will be situated at Iwilei, on the Summer Island side, at the corner of the road which meet in front of the Metropolitan Meat Company's establishment. There will be only sufficient space between the tanks to enable the companies to guard against fire, and the entire park of storage capacity will be facing the city. The tanks each will be in the neighborhood of 100 feet in diameter, and between 25 and 30 feet high. These will be connected with the railroad docks by a pipe line of four inches diameter, which will convey the oil to the tanks in the case of the unloading of a steamer or sailing vessel, and then will carry the oil back to the docks, in the event of the necessity for supplying a ship with fuel.

The distribution of oil among the plantations will be carried on by means of a railroad tank car line according to the present outlook. There are some negotiations looking to the carrying of the oil from the tanks of the Pacific Company to the Honolulu Plantation Company by means of oil scows, similar to those which may be used in the transfer of the oil to a liner lying in the bay. The tank cars will be of the same form as those which are now running in the United States, the only difference being the size. The tanks will be shipped here and placed upon ordinary cars or car frames, of the O. R. & L. Co., within the four months following.

The tank steamer and barge of the Union Oil Company, being built at the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, are almost ready for service and will be sent here on the very first run. The tanks for the storage of oil at Kihel Plantation are now completed, and the workmen are engaged upon the tanks for Spreckelsville, Haiku and Paia. These will be ready to receive a supply of oil as soon as the ships may make their first trip. The Pacific Company, which is now having the Marion Childcott of the Matson line of sailers, converted into an oil carrier, expects the work to be finished within three months, and then the first supply of the fuel will be dispatched here. Meanwhile another ship is to be reconstructed for the addition to the line.

Work upon the setting up of the tanks will not be commenced according to the present outlook much before the end of June, though the floors may be laid. The iron all will be on the ground by that time and the work will be pushed to rapid completion. Pending the coming of the fuel some extensive experiments are being made with burners for the oil, and there will be in readiness, upon the completion of the storage and transportation plans for the introduction of the new order of things upon the plantations of this island and Maui at least.

A Wonderful Cure

Tomales, Marin Co., Cal., Jan. 25, 1922.
DR. M. G. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: One could not imagine the siege of suffering I passed through from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I was subjected to severe drug treatment, stomach pump treatment and diet treatment without the least relief. I grew disgusted with them all and as a last resort tried your belt, two years ago. In three days I could sling away my cane, and in three months was a new man, entirely cured. I and felt better than I had for years. Several of my friends have since purchased your belts. I would not part with mine for $1,000 if I could not get another. Yours truly
JOHN B. GUAY.

Card Etiquette

We have just issued a comprehensive little booklet on card etiquette, which contains many valuable hints—showing how, when and where to use cards.

We think this booklet will be of value to you, and IS YOURS FOR THE ASKING.

Keeping posted on what is new and, above all else, correct, enables us to cater to the wants of particular people.

Whether you believe it or not, a caller is judged by his or her card; you cannot afford to be careless about the kind you use, and as the right kind costs very little more than the wrong kind, there is no excuse for using the latter.

We have been able to make some reductions in the various styles, as a careful perusal of the booklet will show you, and we hope thereby more than ever to bring before you our claims for this work.
